Death of Dr. J. H. Mallory.

We regret to chronicle the death of Dr. J. H. Mallory, a well known and prominent citizen of Robertson county, who was also well known to many of our citizens, having once resided here. His death occurred at his family residence, near Fort Station, on last Sunday, Sept. 24, of erysipelas. The Nashville-Tobacco Board, of which he was a member, met at that city, last Tuesday, and passed resolutions in his honor, and in all ways most excellent. The performance in the ring were for the most part entirely novel and consequently very entertaining. Every feature presented is worthy of special mention and the whole goes to make up a circus performance, par excellence. The bar-back equestrian acts of Messrs. Gardner and Van Zandt, the trapeze performance of Hawley and Binsley and many other features were the finest ever seen here and cannot be surpassed. As a witness to the circus-going world Mr. Cole cannot be surpassed.

Dr. James H. Mallory, whose death we are called to mourn, was born in Montgomery county, Tennessee, near Fort Royal, where he studied medicine under Dr. Howell Hopper, and afterward practiced his profession. With the exception of a few years, during which he resided in Clarksville, his home during his entire life was in that beautiful neighborhood, where he was well known and respected as a citizen. He has been connected with the Nashville tobacco market since 1852, when it was first opened after its long and successful career in the war, and made the first sale in the Capital Warehouse. He was a genial companion, a true friend, kind and obliging to all devoted to him, and in business, and by qualities and characteristics, had endeared himself to every member of his board.

Dr. Mallory was a brother of Capt. Thomas Mallory, the popular and esteemed auctioneer of the Grange Warehouse, of this city. To his stricken wife and child and other relatives, the sincere sympathy of many friends in Montgomery county is extended in their deep affliction.

Death of Mrs. Laura Lindley.

The lady whose name heads this notice died at her residence in this city on last Saturday morning after a protracted and painful illness of several months duration. She was the widow of the late W. P. Lindley and was a most estimable Christian lady and much liked by all who came within the circle of her acquaintance. Through all her long and painful suffering she bore her sufferings with a noble patience and fortitude that touchingly bespoke how well she was prepared for the better world beyond. She was a communicant of the Episcopal church, where her funeral was preached on Sunday afternoon by the Rev. Mr. Graham of Nashville, in the absence of the resident pastor, Rev. P. A. Pitts. Interment was had at the City Cemetery. She leaves three young children, the sympathy of our kind community will be extended to these young and tender orphans in their sad bereavement.

Accident to Sells' Circus.

Last Sunday morning near Lancaster, Ky., a very serious accident occurred to one of the trains of cars employed to carry Sells Brothers' circus, by which three were instantly killed, three probably fatally injured and some of slight wounds. The following dispatch gives full particulars of the accident:

About 3:30 a. m., Sunday, as the first of the three special trains conveying Sells Bros' show from Richmond was coming around a curve 300 yards from Paint Lick the fourth car from the engine, from some unknown cause, jumped the track and rolled over the embankment, followed by the rest of the train in its rear, consisting of fifteen cars. The cars were loaded principally with the baggage of the company, tableaux wagons, the electric light machines, and the cage containing the tiger. Several attaches of the circus were scattered along on the train, and the destruction to both life and property was fearful. Three men were instantly killed, three probably fatally injured, and seven or eight wounded. Two of the killed were attaches of the circus, and the third, a boy named Vernon, who was stealing a ride on the train. The cage containing the tiger was scattered open and three animals turned out, creating much consternation, everybody being afraid to go near until daylight, when the door was opened, and the tiger, which had crouched near by, crept back into his prison, and was secured. The track was torn up for over 100 yards, and the cars were piled into a confused mass upon each other. The engine, with the front cars escaped unhurt, and was immediately dispatched to Lancaster for surgeons and coffins.

We can only add that the accident will in no way delay the progress of the company, abridge the programme or curtail the attractions. They will exhibit here next Wednesday, Oct. 4th.

In August last, Mr. T. B. Farley, of Smithfield, Utah Territory, subscribed for the CHRONICLE. About three weeks ago Mr. George Leigh inserted an advertisement for the sale of his strawberry plants, and a few days ago Mr. Farley received an order from Mr. Farley to send him some of his plants. Who will say that advertising in the CHRONICLE does not pay?

The four-mile law is badly needed in Virginia. Two young men at Hampton Cross-roads, while under the influence of liquor, shot and killed each other, in church, while services were in progress.

Free Lecture.

Mr. Minor L. Meriwether, the talented young editor of Meriwether's Weekly, formerly the Free Trader, published at Memphis, will deliver his entertaining lecture, entitled "The Curiosities of Journalism," in this city, at the Court House, on next Monday evening, October 24, at 8 o'clock. In the course of his discourse, which is highly spoken of by the press wherever he has delivered it, he will touch upon the following topics, which cannot fail to interest his audience: The check required to become a good reporter—How a newspaper is started—Curious cases of newspaper success—A disgraceful squabble makes a London reporter a millionaire—Libels and scandals—Circulation of the largest papers in the world—Telegrams that cost $5,000—What it takes to run a daily—A hundred other secrets of the sanctum.

The lecture will be free to all, and we bespeak for Mr. Meriwether the attendance of our cultured citizens. Remember the date! Next Monday night, October 24, at the Court House, at 8 o'clock. Ladies are respectfully invited. The Winchester Home Journal says of his lecture:

Every seat was filled. Mr. Meriwether showed himself master of his subject. He speaks rapidly, and with vim and energy, going right to the bottom of things; he is never prosy or dull.

COLE'S Circus, which exhibited here last Friday, giving two performances, was universally conceded to be one of the best that has ever visited Clarksville. It exhibited every feature advertised and in all ways most excellent. The performances in the ring were for the most part entirely novel and consequently very entertaining. Every feature presented is worthy of special mention and the whole goes to make up a circus performance, par excellence. The bar-back equestrian acts of Messrs. Gardner and Van Zandt, the trapeze performance of Hawley and Binsley and many other features were the finest ever seen here and cannot be surpassed. As a witness to the circus-going world Mr. Cole cannot be surpassed.

Have You Seen the Comet?

The comet, lately discovered by Prof. Schewer of Nashville, is now plainly visible with the naked eye, every morning about 5 o'clock. It is directly in the East, near the point where the sun rises, and at an altitude of about twelve degrees above the horizon. Its tail is elevated in a southerly direction and is very broad and several degrees long. It is very brilliant and is said to far surpass all the comets of late years. It is well worth losing an hour or two of sleep in the morning to see this beautiful phenomenon of the skies.

The tobacco crop on the south side of the river this year is the best crop that has been raised for years. Whilst a great deal of tobacco on the low and flat lands of Kentucky and a portion of Tennessee has spotted and had to be cut green, that section of the river, being on rolling land, was free from the "spot" and was allowed to get thoroughly ripe. Now if the farmers in that section will handle their tobacco properly, they will receive a good price for it.

Mrs. ORTHA W. DAVIDSON, wife of Mr. Henry Davidson, died at her home on College Street, this city, on last Tuesday, of paralysis. She was a very estimable old lady and a devoted Christian. Her funeral was held at the City Cemetery. She leaves three young children, the sympathy of our kind community will be extended to these young and tender orphans in their sad bereavement.

We call attention to the card of Prof. Emery, who desires to secure piano tuning. Prof. Emery is a thorough and accomplished musician as can be testified to by many of our citizens and a long experience as a pianist and organist has amply qualified him to put them in the best condition. He is a resident of this city and deserves your patronage.

Quite a number of our citizens went out to Hampton's Spring to the railroad picnic, last Monday, and were caught on the wrong side of the river by the break in the bridge. They went up to Guthrie and spent the night there, and now if you ask one of them if they "went to the picnic" they will better be on the opposite side of the street.

The C. C. G.'s are drilling regularly every afternoon, in full dress uniform, at Camp Chase, near the railroad, preparatory to going to Hopkinsville next week—they are putting up some excellent drills. Numbers of ladies witness the drill every evening. The soldier boys are very sanguine of success in the coming contest.

We refer you to the advertisement of Bishop's Vegetable Fever and Ague Cure. It is said to be a splendid cure for the permanent cure of chills and fever. Read his testimonials, you who are shaking with chills or burning with fever and act accordingly.

LOUISVILLE is now enjoying the sensation of a $5,000 diamond robbery. Cook & Stone, well-known jewelers of Fifth Avenue, that city, were relieved in broad daylight last Monday of a tray of fine diamonds, by three expert sneak thieves.

We wonder if Miss Barr, of Sonoma, Ky., who was lately married to Mr. P. P. Huffman, of Christian county, Ky., in the Mammoth Cave, is that mysterious young lady, who sometimes hear of, who swore she would not marry any man "on top of God's green earth."

The female population of this ungodly sphere are all bathed in tears. Synn's Balbriggan hose factory at Balbriggan, Ireland, burned to the ground last Tuesday.

PERSONAL.

Dr. E. R. W. Thomas, of Cincinnati, was visiting his family this week.

Mrs. John S. Collins and children are on a visit to her parents, at Omaha, Nebraska.

Dr. J. M. Bemis and Mr. Lockert Bemis left for New Orleans the first of the week.

Capt. E. M. Howard has resumed his old place in charge of the books at Capt. J. J. Crasman's.

Mrs. John M. Keith, of Selma, Ala., is visiting her sister, Mrs. Dr. McCauley on Franklin street.

We acknowledge an agreeable call on Thursday, from Mr. V. M. Metcalfe, of Hopkinsville, Ky.

Mr. and Mrs. Rosenfield have returned from the East, where they have purchased an elegant line of millinery.

We learn that Mr. Bryce Stewart and family, who have been born in Scotland for the past two years, will sail for home on the 21st of next month.

Mr. R. S. Broadus returned from the Eastern cities on Thursday night. He is carrying his large and elegant stock of fall and winter goods.

Mr. J. F. Wood, the popular tin and hardware man, has a happy, come-in-and-look-at-my-face, it's a fine girl baby.

We had a very agreeable and substantial call this week from Mr. Fred Lawrence, the gentlemanly Foreman of the Great Show. His advertisement will appear next week.

We received a pleasant call this week from Mrs. Bettie Howell Lowmyer, now on a visit from the far West to her relatives in New Providence. She is a staunch friend of the CHRONICLE and it is a friendship that has long been proud of.

Miss Nina Cuthorne, after spending several months at her home in Baltimore, has returned to Clarksville, and is again with Mesdames Henson & Maguire at their elegant Emporium of Fashion. Miss Cuthorne's many friends welcome her return.

Mr. Henry Hancock, recently of Dayton, O., now has charge of the books of the Dayton Hedge Co., under Mr. Duval. Mr. Hancock's father is a native of Montgomery county and formerly resided in this city. We welcome Mr. Hancock among us.

Lieut. F. G. Irwin left last week to assume his station in the regular army. He has been assigned to a position in the cavalry and is stationed at Fort Ellis, Montana Territory. Lieut. Irwin graduated high in his class at West Point last June, and we predict him a very creditable career in the army.

Judge J. E. Rice left Thursday morning for Arcadia, Wis., where he will spend some time in trying to regain his health. The Judge is a native of this city and is well known to the men and boys of Clarksville. He is a native of this city and is well known to the men and boys of Clarksville. He is a native of this city and is well known to the men and boys of Clarksville.

Elkton Register: Miss Mollie Valliant, a pretty and entertaining young lady of Clarksville, Tenn., is now visiting in this city. She is a native of this city and is well known to the men and boys of Clarksville. She is a native of this city and is well known to the men and boys of Clarksville.

Mrs. Harry Barker, Sr., who has been in the employ of L. D. Sandel, as a book binder for some months, leaves this morning for his home in Tennessee. His last piece of work was the binding of six volumes of "The Portrait Gallery of Eminent Men." It is a beautiful piece of work—Zaneville, (O.) Signal.

We are pleased to announce that Messrs. Neblett & Titus have secured the services of Mr. Barker for their bindery, where he is now engaged in turning out some as fine work in the blank book line as can be put up in any bindery in the country. Mr. Barker is an expert at this trade and those wanting anything done in this line will do well to bring their work to the CHRONICLE BINDERY. They do all kinds of binding.

The residence of Mr. Geo. E. Cooke, on Main street, came very near being destroyed by fire on last Tuesday morning. The fire was first discovered by the burning of flames from the ceiling of the dining room near the chimney. The alarm was promptly given and the horse carriages of the fire department immediately responded. By the time of their arrival it was discovered that the fire had spread rapidly and had penetrated to the entire roof and cornices of the east end of the building. It looked for a while as if the house, which is famous for its furniture, would be lost. The hose brigades lost no time, however, in turning on the water from the fire-plugs of the water works and after a sturdy contest of half an hour the fire was conquered. The Hook and Ladder Company was also promptly on hand and aided greatly in extinguishing the flames. The house was considerably damaged, principally by water. The furniture was also damaged to some extent by removal. All loss was fully covered by insurance. The fire was the result of a defective flue. Mr. Cooke now occupies the old residence of Dr. McCauley, immediately across the street.

Mr. R. C. Munford, of Louisville, assistant engineer of the L. & N. railroad, while inspecting the repairs to the Red river railroad bridge Wednesday afternoon, made a mistake by which he was thrown to the ground, a distance of some twenty feet. He fell into an open chest of tools under the bridge, and had his hip badly lacerated by an upturned sugar. Dr. Bailey attended to him at all bathed in tears. Quite serious and he was taken back to Louisville Wednesday night.

The directors of the Grange Warehouse Association met Thursday and re-elected Capt. T. Herndon, Superintendent; Col. Thos. L. Atcheson, secretary; and Mr. T. P. Major, book-keeper. The other appointments in the house have not yet been filled.

Laying the Corner-stone of the New Methodist Church.

The corner-stone of the new Methodist Church was laid on last Tuesday afternoon, with such befitting and impressive ceremonies as are used on such occasions. Besides the pastor and congregation of the church, an unusually large gathering of members of other denominations were present to witness the ceremony.

The exercises were begun with the singing of an appropriate hymn by the church choir, assisted by members of other choirs of the city. The Rev. Jno. S. Collins then led in prayer, which was followed by the readings and responses as laid down by the ritual of the church.

The following articles were then deposited in the corner-stone:

1. The Bible.
2. Standard Hymn Book of M. E. Church.
3. Book of Discipline.
4. Minutes of Tennessee Annual Conference.
5. Minutes of Woman's Missionary Society.
6. Nashville Christian Advocate.
7. Sunday School Standard.
8. City papers—Chronicle, Tobacco Leaf and Free Press.
9. Constitution and By-Laws of Ladies' M. E. Church.
10. Constitution and By-Laws of Orange Wesleyan Association.
11. Constitution and By-Laws of Ladies' M. E. Church.
12. Catalogue of Clarksville Female Academy.
13. Coins.
14. Sketch of the History of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, in Clarksville, prepared by Mr. R. W. Macrae.

The stone was then pronounced square by the architect, the pastor and church officers and sealed in its place.

Mr. B. W. Macrae then read a very interesting sketch of the history of the church from its first organization up to the present time, which we will give you in our next issue.

The pastor, Rev. J. D. Barbee, followed with an eloquent and appropriate address, taking as the text of his sermon, "Except the Lord build the house, they labor in vain who build it." We regret we have not the space to give his address in full.

The exercises were closed with the usual doxology.

The church is now being rapidly constructed, and when finished will be one of the handsome church edifices in the South.

From the Rev. J. W. Collins.

EDITOR CHRONICLE:—So many pressing engagements have clamored for attention lately that I have only had time to read your local by snatches and have written nothing. Cotton picking here has commenced in good earnest, though the crop is short on account of the continual rains, which was unfriendly to the plant. The corn crop is immense and I hear of some selling at one dollar per barrel, though when the market takes a dip, it is in kind it rates at two dollars, which will be above the market price.

Chills and diphtheria have been somewhat prevalent, and we have had a slight experience of both in our family circle. We have a boy at Culleoka and he thinks he never knew anything about light school discipline and close study before. Charley carried a neighbor boy with him and he was as usual, put them on honor as to two things, not to leave their quarters without permission, and as to whether they had any concealed weapons. His chum fished up a very nice pocket pistol which the teacher took charge of and laid up in the archives of the school. There are nearly two hundred boys in the institution, and from nearly every State in the South. Many of the young men rent a room and board themselves, which they do at about six dollars per month.

We have had some excellent meetings here, and as of old I often reach home at midnight to depart next morning after breakfast. One never knows how much he can go through till he tries. Kindest regards to old friends in Montgomery.

Overalls, Tenn., Sept. 23, 1882.

The Clarksville Reading Club will meet the third Tuesday night in October at the Franklin House.

Readers—Mr. Chas. Cooke, at Dr. B. N. Herring; Prof. Jno. S. Collins, at Prof. Emory. Ladies—Mrs. Josh Rice, at Mrs. L. D. Biddle; Miss Jennie Keese, at Miss Bell Keese.

Resolutions—Miss Berta Rhodes, Miss Mary Caldwell, Mr. Sam Hyman, Miss Bettie Garland.

Author for discussion—Shelley. Essayist—Mr. D. Turnley.

The members will bear in memory that the appointment of readers does not exempt them from duty. Sometimes appointees are unavoidably absent. The only way to guard against disappointment is for each member to come prepared to help in presenting an attractive programme. This all should be willing to do as a recognition of courtesy and cordiality with which the Club is entertained by the citizens of Clarksville.

The Rev. Mr. Salin, the converted Jew, has been preaching at the Baptist Church during the week to a crowded house, and his preaching has resulted, therefrom, much good has resulted, therefrom. We learn the meeting will be protracted through next week.

The tobacco crop is now being largely cut and housed. It is one of the finest crops ever raised in this tobacco district.

The hog crop is very scarce and hogs for fattening purposes are in demand, and bringing fine prices.

The grand competitive drill will take place, at Hopkinsville, next Wednesday and Thursday.

Some new corn has already been placed on the market, and the entire crop is fast hardening. The yield is said to be enormous.

Cotton picking has begun in West Tennessee. The indications are for a fair average crop in this section.

Many tobacco barns have burned in this and adjoining counties. Farmers cannot be too careful in firing their tobacco.

Diphtheria is said to be very prevalent about Allensville and Elkton, Ky.
